The South And Film

A Call for Papers

The Southern Quarterly, a journal devoted to the arts in the South, announces a special issue for Winter 1980–81, "The South and Film." Warren French, guest editor, invites essays on significant themes in Southern films, genre pictures with Southern settings, the relationship between Southern literature and the cinema, efforts to make films in the South, and detailed analyses of important films with Southern settings.

Proposals that include an abstract, a statement of the approximate length, and a description of any illustrations to be used should be mailed by 1 March 1980. Early submissions are encouraged. Manuscripts, which must be received by 15 June 1980, should range from 3,000 to 6,000 words and should be prepared according to the MLA Handbook. Please mail inquiries and proposals directly to Warren French, Box 266, Cornish Flat, NH 03746.
